

PORT VINCENT — South AustraliaPROGRESS ASSOCIATION REPORT—JUNE 2020

And just like that it's June!!! What a year we have had already.

Life as we knew it has changed.... and a new form of normal beginning to emerge.

We embrace a new enthusiasm for our freedoms, family, friends & social activity.

What have we been reminded of or learnt during this time?.... Don't take anything for granted, respect peoples personal space, wash your hands and then wash them again....don't watch the news; it's all doom and gloom, shop local, support local and don't hoard toilet paper! All jokes aside..... We are blessed to be South Aussies, and to live in wonderful communities here on the Yorke Peninsula – and thanks to everyone following the advice put forward, we are now in the position to return to some of the activities that we have all missed.

Whilst we at the Pt Vincent Progress Association haven't been able to physically work together, we have become very savvy at remote communication. With our current monthly meetings being undertaken via video conference call, and all general correspondence via email, phone and messenger. With that being said, the kitchen upgrade at the institute is slowly moving along, as with everything 'the virus' has delayed and set back our timelines for completion. Gala Day is at the forefront of our mind as organization of this large event normally kicks in now. With the future state of mass gathering restrictions unknown, we will be monitoring the situation closely, with the hope that this event will still be able to occur in some capacity. At this stage, any further fundraising for the year has been put on hold, whilst we wait for our community and country to begin the recovery process from the economic effects of COVID-19.

During this time, the committee has submitted numerous Grant Applications in the hope that any success will assist with future pending projects and upgrades to facilities and equipment.

On a very exciting note – The Water Tower Mural working group has been successful in their grant application through the 'Foundation For Rural & Regional Renewal' Tackling Tough Times Together programme.

This is a wonderful project, that will transform the SA Water tower to a landmark feature for Port Vincent, with the working groups aim to get the Water Tower art added to the Australian Silo Art Trail.

Stay Safe, Stay Warm and Stay Home if you're feeling unwell. (Check in on your neighbours, family and friends)

How wonderful it is to see our town's retail businesses starting to re-open! Also, as we come out of the restrictions please think of supporting our tradies as well as our retailers. They would love to hear from you!

It is also heartening to see visitors from other areas of South Australia spending time in our beautiful town. South Australians who are unable to travel north for their holidays will hopefully appreciate how beautiful Port Vincent and the Yorke Peninsula is during the Spring/Autumn and Winter months. Maybe we should also look at "holidaying in our own town" and on the Yorke Peninsula over the coming months? Due to our proximity to the water we experience a more moderate climate, warmer in the winter months and cooler in the summer months. Yes, Port Vincent has a lot to offer!

In March an application was made to the Transport Minister, Stefan Knoll for a left-hand turn, deceleration lane (on the Yorke Highway) by our local state government member, Fraser Ellis. Unfortunately we were unsuccessful with this initial application. However, you will be pleased to learn that our Progress Association has not given up. Direct contact has now been made to Minister Knoll in the hope that he will reconsider his decision. One of the factors that needs to be considered is the increase of left-hand turn traffic expected due to the water tower mural project.

I know that many residents have experienced "near miss" incidents when turning left onto Lime Kiln Road from the Yorke Highway. If you would like to voice your concerns, and get behind our push for this important town project then please contact the Transport Minister directly, his email address is ministerknoll@sa.gov.au or via post GPO Box 1533, Adelaide SA 5001

During the past months the extremely necessary COVID-19 restrictions have, in the majority of cases, resulted in isolation from our loved ones. For those with relatives interstate or overseas this separation continues. Thank goodness for the technology that has allowed us to continue to communicate verbally and visually with each other! It has been an especially difficult time when loved ones have been in hospital, and in some cases passed away. Our hearts go out to those who have gone through their recuperation or the grieving process without the comforting presence, and hugs of friends and loved ones. One of our local identities and councillor for 37 years, Jeff Cook passed away suddenly on 13th May. Due to COVID-19 restrictions the family conducted a private family funeral, but Jeff was honoured with a funeral procession along Fourth and Main Street at Minlaton. We have a small tribute to Jeff on Page 6 of this edition, which includes one of his beautiful poems. What do residents think about having a "Remembrance Day" for all those in Australia and around the world who passed away during the COVID-19 restrictions? Obviously this would have to occur after the restrictions have been lifted. As we already have a 11th November Remembrance Day for the fallen, which we should continue to honour, this would need to be on another day, and have a different name. This day could honour those who have passed away, and the nurses and doctors who have so capably served their communities during this time? What do you think? I would love to hear from you!!

A big thank you to Allen Emerson, a local from Germein Street for his very interesting article on Ferdinand Bauer and his amazing drawing techniques and ingenuity. It is difficult to imagine a world without cameras! (see Page 9).

It is always a pleasure to receive articles and information, letters to the editor, etc Please leave your handwritten articles or letters with Meredith at the newsagency, or email me at afocalpoint2@gmail.com

Tidy Towns A Focal Point Report – June 2020 Issue

May has seen the group maintain the mandatory social distancing and restricted group gathering numbers during work days to adhere to Government requirements and our responsibilities to both the Community and our members.

We have started the phone book delivery with John Curnow and Peter Coad working on that project, and at the time of writing, they have delivered books to over half the town. Books for Stansbury will be delivered when restrictions are eased. The new ute has been purchased, and it should be quite visible going around town as it is a red one (it is not as loud, and doesn't go as fast as another red car in town).

John Curnow has done a great job making fold down sides for the ute, and we will now investigate the purchase of a small hoist that we can install on the tow bar to assist in lifting containers onto the tray.

We have had to continue with the street tree watering as we have had only 16mm of rainfall this month, and we have also experienced some very warm autumn days.

The rabbit baiting program seems to have some positive results, but there are still areas around the town that are experiencing a problem. I am in contact with the NRM as to what action we can take to hopefully eradicate the problem altogether.

We also had a subdued celebration for one of our members Jim McIndoe who turned 90 on 28th May.

Nola once again came to the fore with a great cake for us all to enjoy. Jim has been a member of Tidy Towns for several years, and is still active in and around the shed and we all enjoy his company. HAPPY BIRTHDAY JIM.

SAF10 REPORT—JUNE 2020

No assists undertaken this month.

Although there has been an easing of COVID-19 restrictions we still are unable to hold meetings, train and upskill members on our new vessel and tow vehicle.

The good news is that we have seven qualified drivers for the Isuzu, and seven skippers ready for further training. When this is completed other members will be able to familiarize themselves with the running and handling of both the vehicle and Vincent Star.

The police audit postponed last year due to bush fires has taken place. All vessels, vehicles and one private boat have been approved for service.

Orontes Star has been advertised for sale and the detailing on the F250 has been removed. Both are still in service, as is the Seahound.

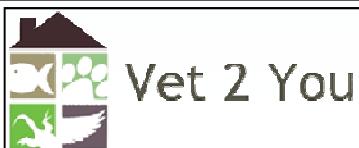

We are currently in discussion with various agencies to have our existing shed modified.

I would like to thank Squadron Board Advisor Bill Taylor for his contribution to the A Focal Point over the last fifteen years.

Keep safe

A Few Changes At Vet 2 You

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic there have been a few small changes implemented at Vet 2 You.

We thank you all for your patience while we are also adapting to these changes.

Our clinic is a small building, and due to social distancing measures we are limited to how many people can be in the clinic at the same time.

We are consulting outside, when weather permits, or taking a thorough history from clients over the phone or outside the clinic, and then taking patients into the clinic to be examined or to have further investigations done such as x-rays and blood tests.

We know this is a little different to how we would 'normally' operate, and we thank you for embracing the changes, with the understanding we are trying to protect the wider community as well as ourselves.

In addition to this we are trying to maximise the use of our website. There is now a tool where you can request repeat dispensing of long-term medications. This is only possible if you have seen one of our vets in the last 6 months, and the medication has been approved for long-term use by one of our vets.

There is a heading of 'medication renewal' under the Healthcare Services tab on our home page. Enter the requested details, hit submit and we will receive a notification of your request.

Visit www.vet2you.com.au to find out more, take a look around our website and let us know what you think.

Thank you again for your continued support.

JEFF COOK—8/8/1947 to 13/5/2020

Residents join Darren Braund, Mayor of Yorke Peninsula Council in paying tribute to Jeff Cook, who sadly passed away on 13th May 2020.
Jeff is remembered fondly by Port Vincent's residents for his amazing contributions to our RSL's Anzac Day services over many years.

As a tribute to Jeff one of his many poems has been reproduced below:-

Grandpa, What did you do in the war?

*I'd been mowing the lawn and pulling some weeds, and slipped inside for a breather
I picked up the paper and turned on the news, not paying attention to either
When my grandson came in with a look on his face and a question that hit me full bore
An innocent question, no intention to hurt, "Grandpa, what did you do in the war"?*

*My skin went all creepy, I had sweat on my brow, my mind shot back fifty years
To bullets that thudded and whined all around, to terror, to nightmares, to tears
I was crawling through mud, I was shooting at men, tried to kill them before they killed me
Men who had wives and children at home, just like mine, just like my family.*

*"What did you do in the war?" he had asked, a question not meant to cause pain
But it brought back the horrors I'd left far behind in a deep dark recess of my brain
I remembered the bombs being dropped from the planes, the explosions, the screams, and the loss
Of a friend - or an enemy - but a life just the same, replaced by a small wooden cross.*

*The visions attacked me of tramping through jungles, hot and stinking, with leeches and flies
Of orders that seemed to make no sense at all - of distrust, of suspicions, of lies
I lived once again all those terrible storms, the dysentery, fever, the snakes,
The blisters that lived with me month after month, all those blunders, and costly mistakes.*

*But how could I tell the boy all about that, 'Twould be better if he didn't know
It's a part of my life that I don't talk about from a good half a century ago
So I gulped, took a breath and tried to sound calm, and bid him to sit at my side
Then opened my mouth to say a few words, but the tears welled up and I cried.*

*He cuddled to me with a look of concern, and I mumbled of feeling unwell
Then took hold of myself, blew hard on my nose, while I thought of some tales I could tell
"What did I do in the war," I began, then the stories began tumbling out
And they flowed with such ease I felt better again, and got over my pain and my doubt.*

*I told him of how I had made many friends, how I'd trained and had gone overseas
Made a joke of how seasick I'd been on the way, almost dirtied myself when I'd sneezed
I told of the joy of the letters from home, of the hand-knitted socks and the cake
That I got for my birthday but three weeks too late 'cause it went somewhere else by mistake.*

*We talked about mateship and what it had meant to trust someone else with your life
And of when I came home to my family again, to my kids, Mum and Dad, and my wife
Of the crowd on the wharf, the bands, and the pomp, and the pride I felt in the parade
But I'm not ashamed that I hood-winked the boy, a decision I'm glad that I made.*

*He can grow up without seeing fear in my eyes, or know of the terror I knew
For he'd not understand - and neither he should - all those memories that hit me anew
But maybe some day when he's older than now, I will tell him what war did to me
But with luck he won't ask me ever again, about wars that never should be.*

JUNE 2020 UPDATE

Step 2 restrictions eased 1 June

You've probably caught up with the great news that from Monday, 1st June, clubs, pubs, churches, halls, gyms, cinemas, museums, galleries and beauty salons can re-open under Step 2 of the easing of COVID-19 restrictions.

Visit www.sa.gov.au for full details but as a guide for local pubs and community clubs such as sport clubrooms, RSLs, any organisations gathering in small halls, I offer the following:-

From 1 June, you can open with 20 patrons permitted per room to a maximum of 80 patrons per venue, if the size of your premises can allow for essential social distancing requirements. These numbers do not include staff. As an example, one-room pubs and community clubs can have 20 patrons inside, and if you have an outdoor beer garden, another 20 people can be seated there. Larger pubs can have 20 patrons in their dining room, 20 in their front bar, 20 in their outdoor area and 20 in another lounge area.

The stipulations are:-

- that social distancing continues to occur (1.5m apart/1 person per 4 square metres);
- patrons are seated and not standing at a bar; and
- that management fills out an online form outlining their venue's capacity plan.

This form needs to be filled out once you re-open, but doesn't have to be lodged anywhere. It just needs to be on hand for inspection by authorities should it be requested. The form can only be filled out online by visiting: <https://www.covid-19.sa.gov.au/recovery/create-a-covid-safe-plan>

If you need further advice, please contact my office. Once you have completed the form online, you will receive an email copy that can then be printed and kept at your premises ready to show any authority that may request to look at it.

There is no requirement to serve your patrons a meal with alcohol. However, TAB, pokies and gambling facilities remain unavailable (to be considered in step 3). It is also not yet permissible for patrons to use shared equipment such as billiards and darts, or for premises to offer communal food services such as buffets and salad bars.

I can also advise that to help pubs, clubs, restaurants and cafes best utilise their premises in a safe way, short term licences to allow premises to quickly expand or amend their trading area have been made available (fee-free), bypassing usual application processes.

There are many in the community naturally excited by the prospect of again being able to meet with friends, family and colleagues at a local club and pub, including me.

I wish all small business, venue managers, club committees and patrons my best wishes for the happier times that lay ahead if we all continue to work responsibly together.

The news certainly lifts community spirits!

“KEEPING IN TOUCH”

Welcome once again to U3AYP news, it has been unprecedented times since our last article and the past few months have presented many challenges to us all. Many have been self isolating, staying home and staying safe!

Nearly 150 members have received emails or mail (“Keeping in Touch”), with information on their courses of choice. The newsletters have been sent in line with the time the course would have been held. Members have been given the opportunity to “practice at home”, examples include - Wanted and Unwanted plant growth at Historical Sites (Flora & Fauna); Businesses in Ardrossan (Visiting Businesses); Circle Dancing (new course to commence); Colouring a beautiful intricate design of a fish with suggestions of music to listen to (Relaxation with Music & Colour); Special pattern for making Hexagons (Sit & Sew); Illustrated Game (Mah Jong); New music sheet (U3AYP Ukulele Strummers); About Exercises (Exercises with Tai Chi movement); Games Information (Games Day); Hints about Propagation (Viewing Gardens); Reminiscing on Celebrations (Conversation & Coffee Moonta); A very special recipe (Conversation & Coffee Minlaton); Rehabilitation of Orang-utans (Travelling Tales); Why do this exercise (Balance & Bones).

What a great initiative this has been, keeping members connected, motivated and in touch with their usual activities during COVID-19.

U3AYP courses are still on hold but with restrictions easing the hope is it will not be long now. As soon as courses begin again members will be notified, hopefully that is not too far away with South Australia doing so well and as the Government continues to relax restrictions. When we do commence courses there will be guidelines in place for each gathering to abide by the Covid-19 restrictions.

Registration/Renewal forms will be out before the end of June and further information can be obtained by visiting website www.u3aypwordpress.com

A thought to leave you with.... “In the rush to return to normal, use this time to consider which parts of normal are worth rushing back to”. (Author unknown)

THE BLUE SWIMMER CRAB

English explorer Matthew Flinders named our Gulf Saint Vincent on 30th March 1802—just over 218 years ago.

(French explorer Nicolas Baudin named it the ‘Golfe Josephine’, but history later decided otherwise).

On Flinder’s ship, the ‘Investigator’ was the gifted Austrian botanical illustrator Ferdinand Bauer.

Bauer ended up compiling over 2,000 illustrations in Australia, and also turned his attention to fish and crabs. He painted the wonderful colour image of what we now know as the Blue Swimmer Crab (Portunus pelagicus).

Have you ever wondered how Bauer managed to capture the subtle colour variations of blue swimmer crab?

Somewhat surprisingly it was all done by numbers!

Historians don’t appear to have yet found a chart of Bauer’s colour codes, but postulate that he may have used up to 1,000 subtly different colours.

Bauer either completed his illustrations back in England, or he sometimes relied on specialist artists to interpret the colour codes from his numbered sketches.

Perhaps Bauer had a photographic memory, but it seems more likely that he inherited similar charts to those used by Sydney Parkinson, the illustrator on Captain James Cook’s ship the Endeavour.

I first came across the above information in a book entitled
Voyages of Discovery—Three Centuries of Natural History, by Tony Rice of the Natural History Museum in London.
(ISBN 1-902686-02-1 at your local library).

Allen Emerson

Editor’s Comment: Thanks so much for this informative article Allen!

For those readers who are in awe of Bauer’s ability can I suggest that you check out these web-sites?

FISHING REPORT—JUNE 2020

Fishing has been on the slow side, since my last report, due mainly to weather conditions.

There are still tommies at the wharf and the marina, and also bream. But, they are very touchy.

Boats are catching King George whiting at the gully. A feed of mullet can also be had from the back beach.

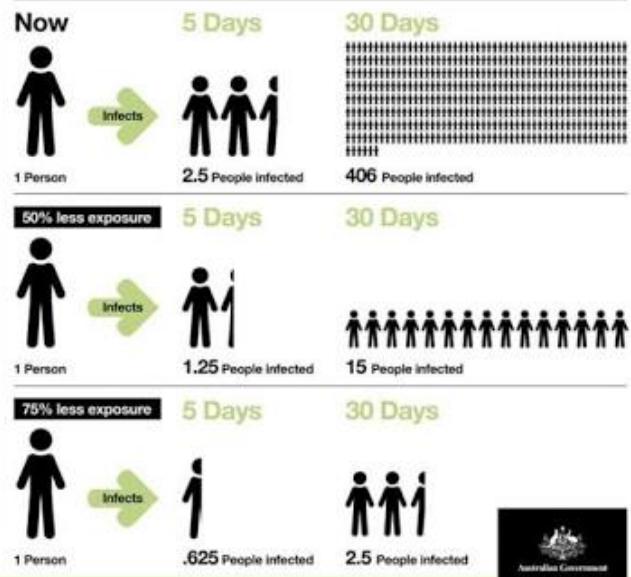

Stay safe and warm—tight lines

Why social distancing matters

Social distancing of 1.5 metres decreases the exposure of coronavirus (COVID-19).

ST NEOT'S ANGLICAN CHURCH (Ministry District of Yorke Peninsula)

An excerpt from a message from Gael Johanson:-

Let us not despair as this Autumn passes into winter.
We, as followers of Jesus and people of the Spirit, have a great treasure within, a treasure to be shared.
Our souls have the richness and depth and strength to carry us through to the Spring.
The brightness of our inner selves will brighten the darkest of times.
As for our aging church - well... I think that she also has richness, depth, and strength of time and experience.
She has a spiritual heritage that will enable her to shine through the winter and rise again in Spring.
We have the seeds for spring planting ready in each of our lives.
Let us not despair.
Let us value ourselves as the people of Autumn and share generously the abundance of our harvest.

Keep watching our Church door for updates as we take the tentative step to open for Church services and the Trash/Treasure gear up for re-operating our Trash/Treasure op shop.
There will be strict guide lines to adhere to, as in distancing and hygiene, hand sanitizing before entering and on exit of the church and op shop.

Our op shop needs to be cleaned and disinfected before opening. Instructions for the handling of donated clothing with gloves, left for 3 days before sorting. So keep an eye on the church door for opening time and date (a Saturday). We have had great coverage from Fr.Andrew, Bishop John Steed, Gael Johanson and it has been welcoming to be in touch through the internet to those who have it available.

31st May is the Day of Pentecost when red is the colour worn in celebration of the next phase of the church calendar.
